

Deyan Kostovski, AMA

Communications

Deyan is a communications strategist with an expertise in developing knowledge translation campaigns, concept design initiatives and community outreach.

He is active throughout the project opening with stakeholder engagement and visioning sessions, liaising with the infield research teams and concluding by distilling and sharing the findings that are most relevant to the different stakeholders that are involved in the project.

Deyan's stakeholder relations skills have been used to manage key relationships with the Ontario Ministry of Health and Long Term Care, the Canadian Standards Association, Partnerships BC, Ministry of Health in British Columbia, regional health authorities, project partners and architecture firms.

He brings a balance of experience from the public, private and international sectors. Deyan was a senior advisor to a Federal Cabinet Minister and has played a key role on the central campaign team during federal and provincial elections. He has provided consulting services to start-up businesses, foreign investment agencies and worked for an intergovernmental organization in Europe.
